Demet Bilgin Ozturk

about me

Hi! My name is Demet Bilgin Ozturk, a freelance graphic designer and photographer based in London. I began freelancing in Turkey in 2005 and specialise in digital and print design, editorial design, logo and brand development, web design and offer design services to businesses of all sizes.

Building relationships with clients is something I pride myself on. I love having the opportunity to learn about what my clients are passionate about, and to help them visualise what they'd like to portray to their audiences.

Not only are my clients diverse, but their projects are, as well. As an independent designer I can take on projects of all kinds, which allows me to tap into all of the experience I've accrued through the years. Diversity is what makes my job amazing.

I design brochures, menus, logos, business cards, books, annual reports, Powerpoint and Keynote presentations, websites—anything my clients need...:

Working with me means you get a committed design service. One of the many advantages of hiring a freelancer is that you work with one person.

I handle both the creative side and your account so messages don't get lost through different staff and I have a solid understanding of your business needs and aspirations.

If you have any ideas, projects or opportunities you would like to discuss, please get in touch.
